Insurance you can depend on

MLC Limited provides long-term, sustainable insurance solutions for customers.

Generally, if you're under 60, you can apply for Life Cover, Total and Permanent Disability and Income Protection insurance through MLC Insurance (which is offered by MLC Limited) and pay the premiums from your Cash Account. For this to occur, the Trustee must be listed as the Policy Owner of the insurance cover.

For more information on insurance options that may meet your needs, please speak with your financial adviser. Before applying for MLC Insurance, you should consider the MLC Insurance and MLC Insurance (Super) PDS, available at mlcinsurance.com.au

Inactive accounts

If your super account hasn't received a contribution or a rollover for a continuous period of 16 months, it's defined as an inactive account. If this is the case, we're required by law to cancel your insurance cover unless you make a contribution or rollover, and/or provide us with your written election to retain it. We'll contact you before this happens and give you the opportunity to retain your cover. If you wish to keep your insurance, regardless of whether or not your account is inactive, please fill out and return the Choose to Keep My Insurance Cover form available at mlc.com.au/superinsurance

What happens to your super if you pass away?

Your account balance, including any insurance payment, can be paid to your beneficiaries or estate if you pass away.

There are different types of beneficiary nominations we offer: binding (non-lapsing or lapsing), non-binding, and for pensions you can also have a reversionary beneficiary.

A binding beneficiary nomination, if valid, allows you to decide exactly where your benefit is to be paid by the Trustee—giving you comfort that your family is protected should something happen to you.

With a non-binding nomination, the Trustee will consider your nomination and your personal circumstances before making a decision on where to pay your benefit.

If you don't make a nomination, or your non-lapsing/lapsing nomination is invalid, the Trustee will decide where to pay your benefit.

If starting a pension, you can elect for your pension to revert to your nominated beneficiary (who must be a 'dependant' under superannuation law) upon your death. This option is known as a reversionary beneficiary.

To find out more about how to nominate a beneficiary, go to the How to Guide available at mlc.com.au/howtoguide/mlcwrapsuper2

Reversionary nominations

You can nominate a reversionary beneficiary to receive your pension in the event of your death. The beneficiary will receive the pension payments, or can opt to be paid the benefit as a lump sum.

A beneficiary must either be your spouse or a dependent child or a person who meets the definition of a dependant under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 (Cth). A dependent child must commute the reversionary pension to a lump sum on attaining 25 years of age, with the exception of a child who qualifies on disablement grounds. You can also make a binding or non-binding secondary nomination should your initial reversionary nomination become invalid. We recommend you speak with your financial or legal adviser for more information on estate planning.

About MLC Wrap Super Series 2

Investing through the Fund isn't the same as investing directly

There are many benefits when investing through the Fund, such as:

- you can access investments which otherwise might not be available to you
- you can achieve a greater level of diversification within your investment portfolio
- because we invest on a large scale, you can access lower investment fees, and
- you benefit from the convenience of consolidated reports for your investments.

When investing through the Fund there are some things you need to be aware of. For example:

- the Trustee owns the assets on your behalf. This means:
 - we may sell some of your investments, for example, if we need to recoup fees and costs owing on your account or if we determine it is in the best interests of the Fund as a whole
 - if the PDS for an investment option was misleading at the time you invested, you may not have the same statutory rights as a direct investor – ie to cancel your investment and receive a full refund. In such cases you may still have other compensation rights against the investment manager
 - you don't have the right to attend investor meetings, vote or participate in discount card offers. We may attend a meeting and vote on your behalf if it's in the members' best interests, and
 - you don't have access to the 14-day cooling-off period available for managed investments.

- you generally can't participate in dividend reinvestment schemes, and
- you won't receive periodic statements from the issuers of any underlying investment options you've selected. These statements include the fees and costs (including indirect costs) you've paid in respect of those investments.

How super works

Investing through super is generally a tax-effective way to save for your retirement.

The Government encourages Australians to use super to build wealth that will generate income in retirement. It's also compulsory for employer contributions to be made to super for most working Australians.

Tax concessions and other Government benefits generally make it one of the best long-term investment vehicles.

Contributing to your super

Generally, you can choose which super fund you want to invest your super into.

There are different types of contributions available to you, such as employer contributions, voluntary contributions and Government co-contributions. Generally you, your spouse or your employer can contribute to your super and help it grow faster. For example you could arrange for your employer to contribute some of your pre-tax salary to your super.

Whatever strategy you choose, you can contribute by cheque, direct debit, BPAY[®] or EFT. You can also set up a Regular Investment Facility to make ongoing contributions from your bank account.

Contributions made to your account, including employer or personal, count towards the relevant contributions cap. Additional tax and charges may be payable if you exceed these caps.

[®] Registered to BPAY Pty Ltd ABN 69 079 137 518

Consolidating your super

Keeping your super in one place makes sense. You can generally transfer the money you hold in other super accounts to your super account.

This gives you a single view of your super, helps you keep track of your investments and means you are only paying one set of fees for your super.

We recommend that you seek financial advice before consolidating your super as your fees, insurance and other benefits may be different in each account.

Accessing the money you put into super

Because super is for your retirement, the law is strict about how and when you can access your money.

Generally, you can access your super to start a Transition to Retirement pension if you've met your preservation age. The preservation age is 55 for those born before 1 July 1960 and will gradually increase to 60 depending on your date of birth. To find out your preservation age, go to ato.gov.au

You can also access your super as an income stream in the retirement phase using an Account-based pension and make withdrawals from your super if you satisfy an eligible condition of release that does not have a cashing restriction. In summary, an eligible condition of release arises when:

- you reach 65 years of age (even if you haven't retired)
- you reach your preservation age of between 55 and 60 (depending on your date of birth) and permanently retire
- ceasing an employment arrangement on or after the age of 60
- you are permanently incapacitated
- you have a terminal illness.

There are other circumstances where you may be able to access your super including:

- under the First Home Super Saver Scheme
- if you're a temporary resident and you permanently leave Australia once your visa has expired
- severe financial hardship, or
- compassionate grounds.

More details on both these conditions are provided in the How to Guide available at mlc.com.au/howtoguide/mlcwrapsuper2

Making withdrawals

Once you satisfy a condition of release, withdrawals can be easily arranged. However, withdrawals may have tax implications. See the 'How super is taxed' section on page 38 of this PDS for more information.

The length of time it takes to process your withdrawal will depend on various factors, such as how often the investment is priced or traded, the composition of your investment, how complex it is, and how liquid it is on the day we process your request. You'll generally receive your money within five working days. However, if your money isn't immediately available to us, it may take up to 30 days or more.

For more information and updates about your chosen investment options, please speak with your financial adviser or visit mlc.com.au/investnews

Selecting another fund

You can also move your money between most super funds at any time.

How super works

Government initiatives

The Government has introduced the following initiatives to support wealth creation for Australians.

First Home Super Saver Scheme

The First Home Super Saver Scheme (FHSSS) is a government initiative intended to help first home buyers save for a home.

Once you've established a MLC Wrap Super Series 2 account, future voluntary concessional and non-concessional super contributions you make (within the specified limits) may become eligible to withdraw, plus a deemed rate of return determined by the ATO (based on the 90 day Bank Bill rate +3%) to purchase your first home.

To determine your eligibility or to apply for this scheme, you must contact the ATO. There are limits and conditions that apply to the FHSSS. We recommend that you speak to your financial adviser or go to ato.gov.au to learn more about the scheme.

Downsizer contribution scheme

If you sell a property that has been your main residence at some point and you've owned it for at least 10 years and are aged 65 or more, you may be eligible to contribute an after-tax superannuation contribution of up to $300,000 (or $600,000 for couples) from the sale proceeds of your home to boost your super balance.

Various terms and conditions apply and downsizer contribution may impact any means-tested social security or Department of Veterans' Affairs income support payments you receive. We recommend you seek advice from your financial adviser or go to ato.gov.au to learn more about the scheme.

The ATO, which is responsible for administering the downsizer contribution scheme, requires that you provide us with a specific form when making, or prior to making the contribution. This form is available at ato.gov.au

More details on both these initiatives are provided in the How to Guide available at mlc.com.au/howtoguide/mlcwrapsuper2

Temporary residents

If you're a temporary resident and your visa has expired and you leave Australia permanently, you may be able to claim the superannuation you hold with us as a Departing Australia Superannuation Payment. Withholding taxes may apply to the lump-sum payment. However, if you don't make a claim within six months of your visa expiring or your departure from Australia (whichever happens last), we may be required to transfer your superannuation to the ATO as unclaimed super. In these circumstances, relying on relief from ASIC, we're not required to notify you or give you an exit statement and you'll need to contact the ATO directly to claim your superannuation. For more information go to ato.gov.au

Legislative change

Just as the Government makes rules it can also change them. Superannuation laws may change in the future. International law changes can also impact your super.

Your financial adviser can help you respond to any changes to laws on super, social security and other retirement issues.

Things to consider before you invest

Before you invest, there are some things you need to consider.

How much risk you're prepared to accept is determined by various factors, including:

- your investment goals
- the savings you'll need to reach these goals
- your age and how many years you have to invest
- where your other assets are invested
- the return you may expect from your investments, and
- how comfortable you are with investment risk.

Investment risk

All investments come with some risk. Some investment options will have more risk than others, as it depends on an option's investment strategy and assets.

The value of an investment with a higher level of risk will tend to rise and fall more often and by greater amounts than investments with lower levels of risk, ie it's more volatile.

While it may seem confronting, investment risk is a normal part of investing. Without it you may not get the returns you need to reach your investment goals. This is known as the risk/return trade-off.

Many factors influence an investment's value. These include, but aren't limited to:

- market sentiment
- changes in inflation
- growth and contraction in Australian and overseas economies
- changes in interest rates
- defaults on loans
- company specific issues
- liquidity (the ability to buy or sell investments when you want to)
- changes in the value of the Australian dollar
- investments and withdrawals by other investors

- changes in Australian and overseas laws, and
- a counterparty not meeting its obligations eg when buying securities, the seller may not deliver on the contract by failing to provide the securities.

Volatility

Periods of volatility can be unsettling and may occur regularly. You may find it reassuring to know that often investments that produce higher returns and growth over long periods tend to be more volatile in the short term.

By accepting that volatility will occur, you'll be better able to manage your reaction to short-term movements. This will help you stay true to your long-term investment strategy.

When choosing your investment, it's important to understand that:

- its value and returns will vary over time
- assets with higher long-term return potential usually have higher levels of short-term risk
- returns aren't guaranteed and you may lose money
- future returns will differ from past returns, and
- your future super savings (including contributions and returns) may not be enough to provide sufficiently for your retirement.

Diversify to reduce volatility and other risks

Diversification – investing in a range of investments – is a sound way to reduce the short-term volatility of a portfolio's returns. That's because different types of investments perform well in different times and circumstances. When some are providing good returns, others may not be.

Portfolios can be diversified across different asset classes, industries, securities and countries, as well as across investment managers with different approaches.

The more you diversify, the less impact any one investment can have on your overall returns.

One of the most effective ways of reducing volatility is to diversify across a range of asset classes.

A financial adviser can help you clarify goals and assist with creating a financial plan which helps you manage risk and consider issues such as:

- how many years you have to invest
- the savings you'll need to reach your goals
- the return you may expect from your investments, and
- how comfortable you are with volatility.

Things to consider before you invest

Types of assets

Asset classes are commonly grouped as defensive or growth, based on their different characteristics.

Defensive assets, such as cash and fixed income, may help provide positive returns in a portfolio when share markets are weak. On the other hand growth assets, such as shares and property, may be included in a portfolio because of their potential to produce higher returns than cash in the long term.

Multi-asset portfolios are usually invested across both defensive and growth assets because their risk and return characteristics tend to be diverse. However in some market conditions, all types of assets may move in the same direction, delivering low or negative returns at the same time.

The main differences between defensive and growth assets are:

	Defensive	Growth
How they are generally used	To stabilise returns.	To provide long-term capital growth.
Risk and return characteristics	Expected to produce lower returns, and be less volatile, than growth assets over the long term.	Expected to produce higher returns, and be more volatile, than defensive assets over the long term.

Asset classes

Asset classes are groups of similar types of investments. Each class has its risks and benefits, and goes through its own market cycle.

A market cycle can take a couple of years or many years as prices rise, peak, fall and stabilise. Through investing for the long term, at least through a whole market cycle, you can improve your chance of benefiting from a period of strong returns and growth to offset periods of weakness.

The illustration below shows indicative returns and volatility for the main asset classes over a whole market cycle. However, each market cycle is different, so unfortunately it isn't possible to accurately predict asset class returns or their volatility. Depending on the conditions at the time, actual returns could be significantly different from those shown.

Things to consider before you invest

Here are the main asset class risks and benefits.

Cash

Cash is generally a low risk investment.

Things to consider:

- Cash is often included in a portfolio to meet liquidity needs and stabilise returns.
- The return is typically all income and is referred to as interest or yield.
- Cash is usually the least volatile type of investment. It also tends to have the lowest return over a market cycle.
- The value of a cash investment in high quality cash securities tends not to change. However, in extreme market environments cash interest rates or yields could become negative, resulting in a gradual decline in the value of your investment over time.
- Many cash funds invest in fixed income securities that have a very short term until maturity.

Fixed income (including term deposits)

When investing in fixed income you're effectively lending money to businesses or governments. Bonds are a common form of fixed income security. Fixed income is also known as fixed interest.

Things to consider:

- Fixed income securities are usually included in a portfolio for their relatively stable return characteristics.
- Returns typically comprise interest and changes in the market value of the fixed income security. While income from fixed income securities usually stabilises returns, falls in their market value may result in a loss on your investment. Market values may fall due to concern about defaults on loans or an increase in interest rates.
- Values of fixed income securities tend to move in opposite directions to interest rates. So when interest rates rise, fixed income securities' values tend to fall and when interest rates fall, values can rise. When interest rates and interest income are low or negative, even small rises in interest rates may lead to falling market values and losses. Short-term fixed income securities are generally less sensitive to interest rate changes than longer-term securities.

- Market values of fixed income securities may rise or fall due to changes in perceptions of the business or government issuing the securities being able to meet their interest and repayment obligations, known as default risk or credit risk. Issuers with higher credit quality are considered investment grade and have a lower credit risk than issuers below investment grade, known as high yield. Higher credit risk securities generally have higher potential returns (yields) to compensate investors for their higher risk.
- There are different types of fixed income securities and these will have different returns and volatility.
- Investing in fixed income securities outside Australia may expose your portfolio to movements in exchange rates.

Infrastructure

Infrastructure businesses own, operate and maintain a diverse range of infrastructure assets such as toll roads, rail facilities, telecommunications networks, and airports. Access to these businesses may be through companies or securities listed on a securities exchange, through unlisted trusts, or direct ownership.

Things to consider:

- Infrastructure is usually included in a portfolio for its defensive and growth characteristics.
- As many infrastructure assets are often highly regulated monopolies, their revenue streams tend to be more regular and stable than other growth assets.

- Returns typically comprise income as well as changes in the value of the assets through time.
- Returns are driven by many factors including the economic environment in various countries.
- As a result of differences in valuation frequency, listed infrastructure securities' returns may appear more volatile than unlisted infrastructure. Listed infrastructure securities are listed on an exchange, so their prices constantly reflect the market's changing view of their values, while unlisted infrastructure asset valuations are typically periodic and regular.
- Investments in listed infrastructure securities generally provide investors greater diversification across countries, sectors and businesses than investments that aren't listed.
- The global infrastructure market offers more diversification than the Australian market.
- Unlisted infrastructure is less liquid which makes it more difficult for an investment manager to buy or sell.
- Investing outside Australia may expose your portfolio to movements in exchange rates.

Listed property securities

Property securities are listed on share markets in Australia and around the world. Listed property securities are also referred to as Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs).

Things to consider:

- Listed property securities are usually included in a portfolio for their growth characteristics.
- Returns typically comprise income (such as distributions from REITs) and changes in REIT values.
- Returns are driven by many factors including the economic environment in various countries.

Things to consider before you invest

- The global REIT market is far more diversified than the Australian REIT market.
- Listed property securities' returns can be volatile.
- Investing outside Australia may expose your portfolio to movements in exchange rates.

Australian shares

This asset class consists of investments in companies listed on the Australian Securities Exchange (and other regulated exchanges). Shares are also known as equities.

Things to consider:

- Australian shares can be volatile and are usually included in a portfolio for their growth characteristics.
- The Australian share market is less diversified than the global market because Australia is currently dominated by a few industries such as Financials and Resources.
- Returns usually comprise dividend income and changes in share prices.
- Dividends may have the benefit of tax credits attached to them (known as franking or imputation credits).
- Returns are driven by many factors including the performance of the Australian economy.
- Companies listed on the Australian share market can be grouped as small, medium and large capitalisation (cap) based on factors including the total market value of their listed shares and liquidity. Investors in small cap companies generally experience greater price volatility than shares in large cap companies because small cap companies trade less frequently and in lower volumes. They may also underperform large cap companies for many years.
- When investing in listed investments such as direct shares, you should be aware that a company's share price is affected by events within and outside of the company. These events include:

- changes to management
- profit and loss announcements
- the expectations of investors regarding the company
- competitive pressures
- legal action against the company
- social and government issues
- climate change, and
- environmental issues.

Global shares

Global shares consist of investments in companies listed on securities exchanges around the world.

Things to consider:

- Global shares can be volatile and are usually included in a portfolio for their growth characteristics.
- The number of potential investments is far greater than in Australian shares.
- Returns usually comprise dividend income and changes in share prices.
- Returns are driven by many factors including the economic environment in various countries.
- When you invest globally, you're less exposed to the risks associated with investing in just one economy.
- Investing outside Australia means you're exposed to movements in exchange rates.

Alternatives

These are a very diverse group of assets. Some examples include hedge funds, real return strategies, and gold.

Things to consider:

- Because alternatives are diverse, they may be included in a portfolio for their defensive or growth characteristics.
- Alternative investments are usually included in portfolios to increase diversification and provide returns that aren't strongly linked with the performance of mainstream assets.

- Investment managers include alternative investments in a portfolio because they generally expect the return and diversification benefits of alternative investments to outweigh the higher costs often associated with them.
- Some alternative strategies are managed to deliver a targeted outcome. For example, real return strategies aim to produce returns exceeding increases in the costs of living (ie inflation).
- For some alternatives, such as hedge funds, derivatives may be used extensively and it can be less obvious which assets you're investing in compared to other asset classes.
- Some alternative investments are illiquid, which makes them difficult to buy or sell.
- Because most alternative investments aren't listed on an exchange, determining their value for a fund's unit price can be difficult and may involve a considerable time lag.
- Alternatives invested outside Australia may expose your portfolio to movements in exchange rates.

Private equity

When investing in private equity you're effectively owning shares in privately-owned businesses that aren't listed on exchanges.

Things to consider:

- Private equity is usually included in a portfolio for its growth characteristics.
- Returns are driven by many factors including the economic environment in different countries.
- Private equity can be volatile and may take years to earn a positive return, if ever.
- Private equity may be included in a portfolio to provide higher returns than listed share markets in the long run, and to increase diversification.
- Private equity is illiquid which makes it difficult to buy or sell.

Things to consider before you invest

- To access private equity you generally need to invest in a managed fund that invests in private equity.
- Because private equity isn't listed on an exchange, determining its value for a fund's unit price can be difficult and may involve a considerable time lag.

Investment approaches

Investment managers have different approaches to selecting investments, which invariably results in different returns. No single investment approach is guaranteed to outperform all others in all market conditions.

There are generally two broad approaches: passive and active management.

Passive management

Passive, or index, managers choose investments to form a portfolio which will deliver a return that closely tracks a market benchmark (or index). Passive managers tend to have lower costs because they don't require extensive resources to select investments.

Active management

Active managers select investments they believe, based on research, will perform better than a market benchmark over the long term.

They buy or sell investments when their market outlook alters or investment insights change.

The degree of active management affects returns. Less active managers take small positions away from the market benchmark and more active managers take larger positions. Generally, the larger an investment manager's positions, the more their returns will differ from the benchmark.

Active managers have different investment styles that also affect their returns. Some common investment styles are:

- Bottom-up – focuses on forecasting returns for individual companies, rather than the market as a whole.
- Top-down – focuses on forecasting broad macroeconomic trends and their effect on the market, rather than returns for individual companies.
- Growth – focuses on companies they expect will have strong earnings growth.
- Value – focuses on companies they believe are undervalued (their price doesn't reflect earning potential).
- Income – focuses on generating a regular income stream through selecting companies, trusts and other securities they believe will deliver income, or through using derivatives and other strategies.
- Core – aims to produce competitive returns in all periods.

Responsible investing

Environmental, social, and governance (ESG) factors impact the sustainability of companies and governments and therefore influence the returns from investing. Incorporating ESG factors into investment decisions is known as responsible investing. Examples of ESG factors are:

- Environmental - climate change, waste and pollution, resource depletion.
- Social – labour standards, working conditions, employee relations and diversity, health and safety.
- Governance – executive pay, bribery and corruption, tax strategy.

Investment managers of the options on our Investment List may consider ESG factors in making investment decisions.

To meet the diverse needs of our members, we seek to provide Ethical/Socially Responsible Investments/ESG options on our Investment List. Where an investment option is marketed by the investment manager as a Responsible Investment, we assess the degree of responsible investment integration into their investment philosophy and process prior to adding to the Investment List.

We don't actively contemplate these factors when selecting investment options for inclusion on the broader Investment List.

Information about the extent to which investment managers consider ESG and Responsible Investing can be found in their PDS, available at mlc.com.au/findafund in the 'External funds' tab.

Investment techniques

Investment managers may use different investment techniques that can change the value of an investment.

Some of the main investment techniques are explained below.

Derivatives

Derivatives may be used in any of the investment options.

Derivatives are contracts that have a value derived from another source such as an asset, market index or interest rate. There are many types of derivatives including swaps, options and futures. They are a common tool used to manage risk or improve returns.

Some derivatives allow investment managers to earn large returns from small movements in the underlying asset's price. However, they can lose large amounts if the price movement in the underlying asset is unfavourable.

Risks particular to derivatives include the risk that the value of a derivative may not move in line with the underlying asset, the risk that counterparties to the derivative may not be able to meet payment obligations and the risk that a particular derivative may be difficult or costly to trade.

Investment managers have derivatives policies which outline how derivatives are managed.

Things to consider before you invest

How investment managers invest in derivatives is included in their PDS, available at mlc.com.au/findafund in the 'External funds' tab.

Currency management

If an investment manager invests in assets in other countries, its returns in Australian dollars will be affected by movements in exchange rates (as well as changes in the value of the assets).

A manager of international assets may choose to protect Australian investors against movements in foreign currency. This is known as 'hedging'. Alternatively, the manager may choose to keep the assets exposed to foreign currency movements, or 'unhedged'.

Returns from exposure to foreign currency can increase diversification in a portfolio.

Gearing

Gearing can be achieved by using loans (borrowing to invest), or through investing in certain derivatives, such as futures.

Gearing magnifies exposure to potential gains and losses of an investment. As a result, you can expect larger fluctuations (both up and down) in the value of your investment compared to the same investment which is not geared.

Investment managers can take different approaches to gearing. Some change the gearing level to suit different market conditions. Others maintain a target level of gearing.

It's important to understand the potential risks of gearing, as well as its potential benefits. When asset values are rising by more than the costs of gearing, the returns will generally be higher than if the investment wasn't geared. When asset values are falling, gearing can multiply the capital loss.

If the fall is dramatic there can be even more implications for geared investments. For example, where the lender requires the gearing level to be maintained below a predetermined limit, if asset values fall dramatically, the gearing level may rise above the limit, forcing assets to be sold when values may be continuing to fall.

In turn, this could lead to more assets having to be sold and more losses realised. Withdrawals (and applications) may be suspended in such circumstances, preventing you from accessing your investments at a time when values are continuing to fall.

Although this is an extreme example, significant market falls have occurred in the past. Recovering from such falls can take many years and the geared investment's unit price may not return to its previous high.

Other circumstances (such as the lender requiring the loan to be repaid for other reasons) may also prevent a geared investment from being managed as planned, leading to losses.

You need to be prepared for all types of environments and understand their impact on your geared investment.

Short selling

Short selling is used by an investment manager when it has a view that an asset's price will fall. The manager borrows the asset from a lender, usually a broker, and sells it with the intention of buying it back at a lower price. If all goes to plan, a profit is made. The key risk of short selling is that, if the price of the asset increases, the loss could be significant.

How your account works

Find out how MLC Wrap Super Series 2 works for you.

Opening a super account

To open your super account, apply through your financial adviser. Your financial adviser will need to confirm your identity before submitting your application.

When you open your account, you must select from either the Core Investment List or the full Investment List. The Core Investment List offers a focused choice of investment options and a simpler fee structure.

You cannot choose to operate under both the Core Investment List and full Investment List within the one account at the same time.

If you do not make a choice, you will be taken to have chosen the full Investment List.

For more information, please see the How to Guide available at mlc.com.au/howtoguide/mlcwrapsuper2

Account minimums for super

The table below shows the minimum amounts you'll need to open your account or make additional contributions.

Minimums	Lump sum	Regular Investment Facility
Initial Investment	$20,000	$3,000
Additional investments	$5,000	$200

Minimum account balance

You'll need to keep at least $3,000 in your account.

When we can't process your application

If we don't have all the information we need to open your super or pension account, we'll contact your financial adviser.

Any contributions we can't process will be held in an interest bearing trust account for up to 30 days. If after 30 days we can't get the information we need, we'll return your money. Any interest earned is retained for the benefit of members of the Fund.

Starting a pension account

To open your pension account, apply through your financial adviser. MLC Wrap Super Series 2 - Pension Service offers the following types of income streams:

- a Transition to Retirement (TTR) pension, or
- an Account-based pension.

Transfer balance cap

A limit applies to the amount that can be transferred to the retirement phase to support superannuation income streams. The limit is known as the Transfer Balance Cap and is $1.6 million for the 2020/21 year of income. This cap applies to all your retirement phase superannuation income streams, such as Account-based and TTR pensions in the retirement phase. A TTR pension will qualify as a retirement phase superannuation income stream and count towards the cap when you meet an eligible condition of release. This is further outlined in the 'How super is taxed' section on page 38.

Individuals who exceed this cap may be subject to excess transfer balance tax and will be required to withdraw or transfer the excess back into the accumulation phase. Pensions also count towards your 'total superannuation balance' which is relevant when working out your eligibility for making various contributions and receiving certain superannuation tax concessions. For more information please visit ato.gov.au

How to apply for a pension

Once you have access to your super money you can start a pension. This may be from an existing MLC account, other super accounts, or both. To open your pension account, apply through your financial adviser.

Your financial adviser may need to confirm your identity before submitting your application.

Account minimum for pension

The minimum amount you need to open a pension account is $20,000.

You can't add money to your pension account once it's started. So if you intend to start your pension with money from different sources, you should first consolidate all amounts in a super account.

You can keep your super account in MLC Wrap Super Series 2 when starting a pension. All you need to do is maintain a minimum balance of $3,000.

Choosing your pension payment amount

Once you start your pension, you may choose the amount you want to receive as a pension payment provided it meets the legislated age-based minimums (refer to table below).

This amount depends on your age when you start your pension and is recalculated at 1 July each year rounded to the nearest $10.

The minimum amount is calculated on a pro rata basis in the financial year you start your pension. If you start your pension in June, you don't have to take any payments until the next financial year.

If you roll your pension back to super before the end of the financial year, the minimum amount is calculated on a pro pro rata basis on the day the money transfers out of your pension.

How your account works

If you choose an amount (other than the minimum), you can elect to have that amount increased annually, at a rate you nominate.

Shortly after 1 July each year we'll send you a letter showing you the legislative age-based amount and annual amount paid to you as your pension payment for that financial year.

TTR Pension

You must reach your preservation age to be able to draw a TTR Pension. Once established, the rules are:

- your pension payment needs to meet the legislative age-based minimums (refer to table below) or a pro rata amount
- a maximum pension payment of 10% of your account balance can be withdrawn in a financial year (until you meet an eligible condition of release). This amount is not calculated on a pro rata basis.

You should notify us if you retire before age 65 because the maximum payment limit will no longer apply and your investment earnings will not be taxed.

Age-based minimums

Age at start of pension and each 1 July	Default minimum percentage of account balance (%)	Reduced minimum percentage of account balance (%) ¹
Under 65	4	2
65-74	5	2.5
75-79	6	3
80-84	7	3.5
85-89	9	4.5
90-94	11	5.5
95 or more	14	7

¹ The reduced minimum is available for the 2020/21 financial year. The minimum may be subject to change from time to time. More information is available at ato.gov.au

Choosing additional payments

If you require money in addition to your regular payments, you can request:

- an additional pension payment, or
- a lump sum withdrawal from your superannuation (note: restrictions may apply if you hold a TTR pension).

Social Security considerations

Any decisions you make regarding the level of pension payments and lump sum withdrawals you receive may impact any income and support payments you're entitled to (if applicable).

We recommend you speak with your financial adviser or go to servicesaustralia.gov.au to find out more about the implications.

Your Cash Account

Your Cash Account is used for all transactions on your account, including pension payments.

Minimum cash requirement

You need to invest a minimum amount in your Cash Account as shown in the table below.

Super	1% of your account balance to a maximum of $5,000.
Pension	1% of your account balance to a maximum of $5,000 plus an amount to cover the next two months of pension payments (for monthly and fortnightly payments) or the next pension payment (for other payment frequencies).

Your Cash Account investment

You can earn interest on your Cash Account.

Interest will be charged if your Cash Account is negative. This may happen if you buy investments using proceeds from sales that aren't final, or if you haven't allowed for fees or other payments.

The interest rate charged will be equivalent to the rate applied where your Cash Account balance is positive.

Your Cash Account is currently allocated to cash investments, managed by NAB. Please refer to mlc.com.au/cashaccount or speak with your financial adviser for information on your Cash Account including:

- the relevant product information and/or terms and conditions for the investments
- the approximate allocation to each investment, and
- the indicative earning rates and performance information.

How your account works

Topping up your Cash Account

You and your financial adviser are responsible for maintaining the balance in your Cash Account above the minimum cash requirement.

There are a number of ways to do this which are outlined in the How to Guide available at mlc.com.au/howtoguide/mlcwrapsuper2

We review your Cash Account balance quarterly. If it falls below the minimum cash requirement, we may sell some of your investments to pay for any outstanding fees, charges and expenses and to provide at least the minimum cash requirement.

Receiving distribution income and dividends

Most managed investments will generally distribute income during the year. All income distributions are initially paid into your Cash Account. You can manage this income by:

- reinvesting it in the same or another investment option, or
- keeping it in your Cash Account.

If you're reinvesting income, it's a good idea to keep up to date with any changes to your chosen investment option. Speak with your financial adviser or refer to the relevant PDS available at mlc.com.au/findafund

Dividends from your listed investments are deposited in your Cash Account. You generally can't participate in dividend reinvestment schemes.

How your account is valued

The value of your account is based on:

- prices provided by investment managers multiplied by the number of units held
- prices provided by the Australian Securities Exchange multiplied by the number of shares held
- any term deposits, and
- your Cash Account.

Prices are generally provided daily, however there may be times when we don't receive updated prices. This might happen when shares are delisted or assets can't be valued.

In these circumstances we may have to use different valuation methods.

You should be aware that your account balance doesn't include the tax impact of any unrealised gains or losses that may arise if you request a withdrawal.

Buying and selling investments

You or your financial adviser may give instructions, directions or requests for financial products to be acquired.

If you have chosen the Core Investment List, not all of the following investment categories will be available to you. For more information refer to the Investment List at mlc.com.au/forms_and_brochures

Managed investments

This can include instructions for:

- one-off investments, and/or
- ongoing investments.

We'll usually instruct investment managers within five business days of receiving your instructions.

It generally takes investment managers a number of days to complete an instruction.

Listed investments

Usually, if we receive your instructions within a reasonable time before the markets close, we'll action them the same day.

Your instruction may not be executed straight away, particularly if you ask us to buy or sell a parcel of shares at a specified price.

Trades can be made through our preferred broker, or our panel of approved brokers.

The preferred broker is WealthHub Securities Limited (a NAB Group company).

For further details about brokers and transacting on listed investments go to the How to Guide available at mlc.com.au/howtoguide/mlcwrapsuper2

Term deposits

We'll act on your instructions to invest into term deposits, generally on a weekly basis.

These investments are intended to be kept until maturity.

If you wish to access part or all of your investment before its maturity date, you may need to provide at least 31 days' notice in addition to our processing time.

You'll receive your original investment amount plus interest for the period you've held the investment, less any costs incurred by the Term Deposit provider as a result of redeeming your investment before the maturity date.

Separately Managed Account (SMA)

We'll usually act on your investment instructions within five business days of receiving them.

Your financial adviser can transfer listed investments and managed funds between portfolios in the SMA.

How your account works

Minimum investment amounts

All investment instructions are subject to minimum amounts as shown in the table below. These minimums are also subject to the overall account minimums for your super and/or pension accounts shown on page 16.

Investment minimums
Investment type	Initial	Additional
Managed investments	No minimum	No minimum
Listed investments	$2,000	$500
Term deposits	Varies by issuer	Varies by issuer

When we can't process instructions

There are times we might not be able to process your investment instructions, for example when:

- there are liquidity issues in the investment option
- the investment manager suspends transactions
- a managed fund is under administration, is suspended, or illiquid
- a listed investment is under administration, is suspended or delisted, or
- the instruction is incomplete.

We'll notify you if these situations occur.

For more information please see the How to Guide available at mlc.com.au/howtoguide/mlcwrapsuper2

Fees and other costs

This section will give you an understanding of the fees and costs you may pay.

DID YOU KNOW?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

TO FIND OUT MORE

If you'd like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

This document shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and other costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment or from the assets of the superannuation entity as a whole.

Other fees, such as activity fees and advice fees for personal advice, may also be charged, but these will depend on the nature of the activity or advice chosen by you. Entry fees and exit fees cannot be charged.

Taxes are set out in another part of this document.

You should read all the information about fees and other costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment.

All fees on pages 24 to 37 are shown inclusive of GST and net of Reduced Input Tax Credits and stamp duty (where applicable).

The total fees and costs you pay will be:

- the cost of the MLC Wrap Super Series 2 product
- the fees and costs of the particular investment option/s you choose
- any other transaction and account costs you incur (as set out on pages 33 to 37), and
- any additional fees that are agreed between you and your financial adviser, should you consult one (see page 36).

Fees and other costs

The fees and costs set out in the fee table below are for the MLC Wrap Super Series 2 product only and don't take into account the fees and costs of any investment options you choose. Fees and costs for particular investment options are set out in the Investment List available at mlc.com.au/forms_and_brochures and the investment manager PDSs available at mlc.com.au/findafund or from your financial adviser. Those other fees and costs are charged by the issuer of the investment option and not by us. It's important that you understand those fees and costs when choosing an investment option.

To see an example of the fees and costs of your MLC Wrap Super Series 2 account combined with the fees and costs of a range of investment options, please refer to page 29 of this PDS.

These fees apply to both your super and pension accounts.

Additional explanation of fees and costs

Fees and costs of the investment options you select

The total fees and costs you pay will include the costs of this product as set out in the fee table on page 24 as well as the cost of any investment options you choose.

For example, if you select a managed investment product option from the Investment List, the issuer of that investment option will charge management costs and may also charge other costs such as transaction costs and borrowing costs which are explained further below. Management costs will include, where applicable, investment fees, performance fees and other costs, including indirect costs, which will reduce the net return of the investment option. Generally management costs are deducted from the assets of the investment option you've selected and will be reflected in the unit price and any reporting on the performance of the investment option.

It's important that you understand the fees of any investment options you choose, and that those fees are in addition to the fees charged by us for the product, together with transaction costs incurred on your behalf.

Information about the costs of the investment options you choose is summarised in the Investment List available at mlc.com.au/forms_and_brochures and will also be set out in the PDS and other disclosure documents for the investment option. The PDSs for the investment options can be found at mlc.com.au/findafund

Investment manager fee rebates

Some investment managers provide a rebate on the management fee for some of the investment options which they issue, which we pass entirely back to your Cash Account.

The Investment List notes the investment options that may pay a rebate to us.

Transaction costs

Transaction costs are generally incurred when assets of the Fund or an investment option are bought and sold. Depending on the investment options that you've selected, these costs may be deducted directly from your Cash Account or they may be incurred within the investment option itself. A summary of the types of transaction costs that you may incur is set out below.

Transaction costs for listed investment options

When listed investment options are bought and sold, transaction costs including brokerage and settlement costs are incurred. These costs are shown in the table below.

They are deducted from your Cash Account at the time of the trade and are an additional cost to you.

Costs may also be incurred when the market process for purchasing listed investments causes the price paid to be higher than the value of the listed investments immediately after the purchase transaction, for example where bid/ask spreads are incurred.

	Preferred broker	Panel broker*
Brokerage
Online instructions	0.132% of trade value (minimum of $33.00)	Panel broker fee* only
Paper instructions	0.205% of trade value (minimum of $51.25)	0.123% of trade value (minimum of $30.75) Plus Panel broker fee*
Plus
Settlement	N/A	$15.38

*External Panel broker fees are negotiable and hence can vary widely across these providers. An indicative range of these fees is from 0.18% to 1.25%. A settlement fee will also be payable to the panel broker.

Transaction costs for SMA investment options

When shares within an SMA investment option are purchased and sold, brokerage and settlement costs will be incurred. The brokerage rates that apply will usually be lower than the brokerage rates described above for listed investment options.

Transaction costs may also be incurred when the market process for purchasing or selling assets causes the transacted price to be different to the value of the assets immediately before or after the transaction, for example where bid/ask spreads are incurred.

You can get more information on these fees and costs by going to the SMA PDS available at mlc.com.au/sma

Fees and other costs

Transaction costs for managed investment options

When assets in a managed investment product are bought or sold, costs such as brokerage, stamp duty and settlement costs are incurred. Costs may also be incurred when the market process for purchasing or selling assets causes the transacted price to be different from the value of the assets immediately before or after the transaction, for example where bid/ask spreads are incurred. Some or all of these costs may be met by a buy-sell spread which is an additional cost to you when you add to or withdraw from the investment option or if you switch investment options. The remaining costs are met from assets of the investment option and reduce the return of the investment.

None of these transaction costs are paid to us.

For more information about the transaction costs (including buy-sell spreads) that apply to your chosen investment, go to the Investment List available at mlc.com.au/forms_and_brochures and the investment option's PDS available at mlc.com.au/findafund

Borrowing (gearing) costs in managed investment options

Some of the managed investment product options available on our Investment List may incur borrowing (or gearing) costs, where borrowing is part of the investment strategy. Borrowing costs include all costs in relation to the loan arrangement, including upfront costs to establish the arrangement and ongoing costs like interest payments.

Borrowing costs are an additional cost to you. They are deducted from the assets of the investment option and reflected in the daily unit price and any reporting on the performance of the investment option. Borrowing costs may rise and fall over time, and will depend on the level of gearing, the interest amount and other amounts paid to lenders.

For more information about any borrowing costs that apply to your chosen investment, go to the investment option's PDS available at mlc.com.au/findafund

Property operating costs in managed investment options

Some of the managed investment product options available on our Investment List may incur property operating costs such as rates, utilities and staff costs, where the option has exposure to unlisted property.

Property operating costs are an additional cost to you. They are generally deducted from the assets of the investment option, and are reflected in the daily unit price and any reporting on the performance of the investment option.

For more information about any property operating costs that apply to your chosen investment, go to the investment option's PDS available at mlc.com.au/findafund

Movements between Core Investment List and full Investment List

You can apply to move between the Core Investment List and full Investment List at any time.

The Administration fees you pay will depend on the Investment List applicable to your account at the end of the month, or on exit. Following a move into the Core Investment List, if for any reason at the end of the month you hold an investment that is outside the Core Investment List, we will apply Administration fees that are in line with the full Investment List.

When moving from the full Investment List to the Core Investment List any outstanding transactions, current investment holdings, or current investment facilities on the account which include investments not available on the Core Investment List may delay the move to the Core Investment List. When moving from the Core Investment List to the full Investment List these items will not influence the timing.

For more information please see the How to Guide available at mlc.com.au/howtoguide/mlcwrapsuper2

Family account linking

You can initially link up to four MLC Wrap Series 2 accounts held by you or your eligible family members, which may reduce the Administration fee and Super administration fee (to any linked super accounts only) you pay on each account. From 23 November 2020, the maximum number of accounts increases to six. Each account can only be linked once and the financial adviser on each linked account must be the same.

For each account within your family group, the tiered percentage Administration fee is calculated on the combined balance of all linked accounts. The calculated amount is then proportioned to individual accounts based on the share of the combined balance.

A linked family group cap may also apply to the total Administration fee (tiered and flat percentage fees) charged across the group. The cap is applied proportionally to individual accounts, based on the share of the combined balance. If you have selected the Core Investment List you cannot receive the benefit of family group linking. Members of your family group will also not be able to benefit from your account. Please speak to your financial adviser about which option is most appropriate for your circumstances.

For super and pension accounts within the family group, a linked family group cap may also apply to the Super administration fee charged. The cap is applied proportionally to each super and/or pension account within your family group, based on the share of the combined balances of eligible accounts.

Fees and other costs

Minimum and maximum Administration fees still apply to each individual account. The maximum Administration fee and Super administration fee will be the lesser of your individual cap and your share of the family linking cap (where applicable) as set out in the fee table on page 24.

Where the minimum Administration fee of $375 pa is higher than your share of the family linking cap for the Administration fee (tiered and flat percentage fees), the minimum fee will apply.

More details on eligibility of linking accounts are provided in the How to Guide available at mlc.com.au/howtoguide/mlcwrapsuper2

Taxes and tax benefit

The fees shown in the table on pages 24 to 32 are gross of any income tax benefit. If the Fund is entitled to a tax deduction, any benefit will be taken into account to reduce the amount of overall tax that's charged to your account.

For further information on taxes refer to the How Super is taxed section on page 38.

Cash Account fee

The Cash Account fee is 0.75% pa and the fee is not separately deducted from your account but instead it is taken from the investment returns before interest is paid to your account. It'll be included in the 'other fees of your investment' in your statement.

We may change the fee from time to time, including reducing or increasing the fee. We'll ensure the interest paid to you on positive Cash Account balances is not lower than 0% pa, by reducing the Cash Account fee as needed. We'll let you know in advance of any increase to the fee.

Please refer to mlc.com.au or speak with your financial adviser for more information on your Cash Account.

Cash Account interest charge

If your Cash Account is negative, you'll be charged interest on your negative balance on a quarterly basis. This may happen if you buy investments using proceeds from sales that aren't final, or if you haven't adequately catered for fees or other transaction payments coming from the Cash Account.

The interest is charged at the daily rate applicable for the Cash Account, for the time that your Cash Account has a negative balance. The charge will be offset against any positive interest accumulated during the quarter.

To find out more go to the How to Guide available at mlc.com.au/howtoguide/mlcwrapsuper2

Government levies

Certain levies are imposed on superannuation funds by the Government and the amount of these levies may vary from year to year.

The Trustee may recover some or all of these amounts from members and these amounts are reflected as the Government Levy Cost Recovery in the fee table on page 28. This amount is an estimate and the actual cost recovery amount and the cap may differ from the amounts shown.

Operational Risk Financial Requirement (Reserve)

The Government requires superannuation fund trustees to hold adequate financial resources (Reserve) to cover any losses that members incur due to operational errors. The Reserve has been established in full by our capital (via equity contributed from our ultimate shareholder, NAB). If the Reserve falls below our targets, we propose to fund the shortfall through our own capital, rather than seeking contributions from members. This means that we don't currently require members to contribute to the Reserve, but members will be notified if this changes in the future. As the Reserve is held by us, it isn't reported in the financial statements of the Fund.

Family Law fee

The Family Law Act enables investments to be divided between parties in the event of a breakdown of a marriage or de facto relationship.

We may be legally compelled to provide information to other parties in accordance with this legislation.

We may charge a fee for this service.

Insurance costs

If you have insurance you may be able to have your premiums deducted from your Cash Account.

For more information on insurance options that may meet your needs, please speak with your financial adviser or go to mlcinsurance.com.au

Investment communication fee

You can ask us to source investment communications prepared by a company or investment manager. We may charge a fee for this service.

Fees and other costs

Dishonours

We may recover the costs of any charges incurred if a direct debit or cheque is dishonoured.

Adviser Service Fee

When you consult a financial adviser, additional fees may be paid to that financial adviser from your account as follows.

- You may pay a fee for the services you receive and choose how to pay for these services.
- You can authorise for the cost of your financial adviser's services, solely in relation to your MLC Wrap Super Series 2 account, to be deducted from your account and paid to them. You can do this by giving us instructions to establish an Adviser Service Fee to be deducted from your account.

You can authorise for one or more of the following types of Adviser Service Fees to be deducted from your account:

- Adviser Initial Service Fees – You can select for the fees to be:
 - calculated as a percentage of; or
 - deducted as a dollar amount from, the contributions you elect to be paid to your account when you first join.You can also select for the fees to be calculated as a percentage of each contribution you make to your account after you join.
- Adviser Ongoing Service Fees – You have the flexibility to structure the manner in which this fee will be calculated and deducted from your account balance (for example, it can be a combination of a dollar amount, a flat percentage or a tiered percentage of your account).
- Adviser Share Transaction Fee – You can authorise for the fees you pay for the advice and services your financial adviser provides to you in relation to any listed investment transactions you make on your account.

This fee can be calculated and deducted from your account as:

- a dollar based fee, to a maximum of $110 per trade; and/or
- a percentage of each trade, to a maximum of 1.1% of the trade value.

Any fees charged by your financial adviser are in addition to the fees and costs described in this PDS.

You can amend or cancel an existing Adviser Service Fee arrangement with a financial adviser at any time by contacting us. This may impact the ongoing services they provide.

Your financial adviser cannot change the Adviser Service Fee without your consent.

Any fee arrangement you have with a financial adviser should be detailed in the Statement of Advice they provide. You should regularly review this arrangement.

We reserve the right to reject or terminate an Adviser Service Fee arrangement on your account at any time.

Other Adviser remuneration

Your financial adviser doesn't receive commission for this product.

Your financial adviser may receive alternative forms of remuneration, such as conferences and professional development seminars that have a genuine education or training purpose. These are paid from the Administration fee and aren't an additional cost to you.

Fees paid to related companies

We may use the services of related companies where it makes good business sense to do so and will benefit our customers.

Amounts paid for these services are always negotiated on an arm's-length basis and are included in all the fees detailed in this document.

Other fees we may charge

Fees may be charged if you request a service not currently offered. We'll agree any additional fee with you before providing the service.

We may charge members of the Fund generally, with actual or estimated costs of running the Fund. These may include costs resulting from Government legislation or fees that are charged by third parties. If the actual costs are less than estimated costs we've deducted from your account, the difference may be retained in the Fund and used for the general benefit of members.

Varying fees

We may vary our fees but we'll give you 30 days' notice of any material increase. The only exception is for Government taxes and charges. Issuers of investment options available on the Investment List may vary their fees as set out in their PDS available at mlc.com.au/findafund

How super is taxed

This section isn't a comprehensive and complete tax guide and is based on the laws at 1 July 2020. Tax laws change. To keep up to date, please visit ato.gov.au or moneysmart.gov.au. Tax on super is complex. This is general information, and we recommend you seek advice from a financial adviser or registered tax agent to determine your personal tax obligations. We're not a financial adviser or registered tax agent.

How tax is calculated on your account

We may have to pay PAYG income tax instalments from the Cash Account to the ATO. We'll deduct an amount monthly from your account. At the end of the financial year when the final tax liability is known, the relevant part of the final tax instalment payment or refund from the ATO will be paid from or credited to the Cash Account.

Tax treatments in your account
	Contributions	Investment earnings and realised capital gains
Super	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Concessional contributions, such as employer and salary sacrifice contributions, are usually taxed in the Fund at a rate of 15%. Generally, if the sum of your combined 'income' and concessional contributions exceed $250,000 in an income year, an additional 15% tax will apply to your concessional contributions. If your income excluding your concessional contributions is less than $250,000, the additional 15% tax will only apply to your concessional contributions which place you in excess of the $250,000 threshold. While the additional tax is levied on you personally, you can elect to have the tax paid from your super account. Taxes charged within the Fund are deducted from your account as and when required or when you leave the Fund. Non-concessional contributions aren't taxed in the Fund. These include contributions made by you or your spouse for which no personal income tax deduction has been claimed. Contributions made to your account, both concessional (ie before tax) and non-concessional (ie after tax) will count towards your contribution caps. Additional tax and charges may be payable if you exceed these caps. The amount you have in your 'total superannuation balance' (which includes all your superannuation and pension balances generally determined on the previous 30 June) may limit your ability to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> make non-concessional contributions, claim the Government co-contribution, receive a spouse contribution, and access 'catch up' concessional contributions in the 2020/21 and later years of income with specific conditions applying. For further information, please refer to the ATO website ato.gov.au	Taxed at rate of up to 15%.

Information on nominating a beneficiary

Types of nominations

A non-lapsing binding nomination which is binding on the Trustee

Selecting this nomination will make sure your account balance is paid as you have directed as long as the nomination is and remains valid. This nomination stands even when your personal circumstances change such as getting married, having children, or any other life-changing event occurs. It is therefore, very important to regularly review your nomination to make sure it reflects your current personal circumstances.

A lapsing binding nomination which is binding on the Trustee

Selecting this nomination will make sure your account balance is paid as you have directed as long as the nomination is and remains valid. A lapsing binding nomination is valid for three years after the date you sign the request. If the nomination isn't updated after three years, the nomination will lapse.

A non-binding nomination subject to Trustee discretion

The Trustee will decide who receives your account balance, taking into consideration your preferred beneficiaries and your current circumstances at the date of your death.

No nomination

The Trustee will decide who receives your account balance.

Who can you nominate?

Under superannuation law, you can nominate:

Individuals

- your spouse (which includes a de-facto spouse and a same sex partner)
- children including step and adopted children, children of your spouse and other children within the meaning of the Family Law Act 1975
- individuals who are financially dependent on you at the time of your death, and
- someone in an interdependency relationship with you at the time of your death.

Legal Personal Representative (your estate)

Your legal representative, either the executor under your will or a person granted letters of administration for your estate if you die without having left a valid will.

Why can't you nominate other family members or friends?

The law only allows you to nominate individuals who are financially dependent on you or have an interdependency relationship with you at the time of your death. However, you can choose to have your benefit paid to your estate where you can nominate your friends and/or other family members in your will to receive these funds.

What is a financial dependant?

Someone who is financially dependent upon you at the time of your death.

The definition of a dependant under superannuation legislation may be different to the definition which is used for tax purposes. For more information on estate planning we recommend you speak with your financial or legal adviser.

What is an interdependent relationship?

This is a close personal relationship between two people who live together, where one or both of them provide for the financial and domestic support and personal care of the other. This type of relationship may still exist if there is a close personal relationship but the other requirements aren't satisfied because of some physical, intellectual or psychiatric disability.

Where can you check your beneficiary nomination?

Your beneficiary nomination details will be confirmed each year in your Annual Statement.

Taxation

The taxation rules relating to death benefits are complex and different taxation treatments may apply depending on the beneficiary nomination in place. Please seek advice from your registered tax agent.

 - request and receive information and reports about my account and investments.
- I understand the Trustee may refuse to act on my financial adviser's instructions and requests for information at its absolute discretion.
- I acknowledge that any withdrawal requests payable to a third party must be provided by me.
- I acknowledge that at times my financial adviser, or my financial adviser's Dealer Group, may instruct the Trustee to change my named financial adviser (e.g. if the financial adviser sells his or her business). If this occurs, I authorise the Trustee to continue to honour the Adviser Service Fee arrangement and accept instructions from the new named financial adviser. This is subject to any express instruction I give to the contrary.
- I agree that the Trustee has no liability to me for acting on my financial adviser's requests or instructions, or in reliance on information provided by my financial adviser or my financial adviser's Dealer Group.

If no date is specified, debits may be made on or around the day of the month that we process your application. Where the due date for the debit falls on a non-business day, the debit will be made on the next business day. We will provide you with not less than 14 days' written notice of any changes we propose to make to your direct debit facility. We and/or your financial institution may charge you a dishonour fee for debits that are returned unpaid and we may terminate your direct debit facility if debits are returned unpaid on three consecutive occasions.

Your commitment to us

It is your responsibility to check with your financial institution that direct debiting is available on your account prior to completing the Direct Debit Request Schedule in question 10. You must ensure at all times that sufficient funds are available in your nominated account to meet a debit on the due date. It is your responsibility to advise us if your nominated account is to be altered, transferred or closed. You are liable for any charges that may result from the use of the direct debit facility, including fees charged to us as a result of debits returned unpaid. These charges will be debited to your Cash Account. If any debit requested by you is not made, you remain obliged to pay any amount owing to us.

Your rights

You may direct all enquiries regarding the direct debit facility to Client Services. You may request to defer or alter your direct debit facility, including any stops or cancellations, by giving written notice to us at least five business days prior to the next scheduled debit. You may cancel your direct debit facility at any time by giving written notice to us. Five business days' notice is required for us to act on such a request. We'll confirm to you that the debit has been stopped.

Before signing this Application Form, please ensure that you’ve read and understood the Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) and Investment List for MLC Wrap Super Series 2. You should consider all information before making a decision to invest in this product.

Important information

A limit applies to the amount that can be transferred to the retirement phase to support superannuation income streams. The limit is known as the Transfer Balance Cap and is $1.6 million for the 2020-2021 year of income. This cap applies to all your retirement phase superannuation income streams. Individuals who exceed this cap may be subject to excess transfer balance tax and will be required to withdraw or transfer the excess back into the accumulation phase. Pensions also count towards your ‘total superannuation balance’ which is relevant when working out your eligibility for making various contributions and receiving certain superannuation tax concessions. For more information please visit ato.gov.au

Before sending this Application Form to the Trustee, please check that you have completed:

- all the questions on the Application Form (as appropriate) by printing clearly in the spaces provided and have signed the relevant sections,

3. Tax File Number (TFN)

Your TFN is confidential, and the Trustee is authorised to collect and disclose your TFN under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 and Privacy Act 1988. The Trustee may use your TFN only for lawful purposes, including paying out your money, identifying or combining your superannuation benefits. These purposes may change in the future as a result of changes to the law.

Your TFN will be disclosed to the ATO and may be disclosed to the trustee of another superannuation fund or RSA provider if your benefits are transferred, unless you request in writing for it not to be disclosed to any other super/RSA provider.

You do not have to provide your TFN, and it's not an offence if you don't, however we may reject your application or return your contributions or rollovers if your TFN is not provided. Generally, we will hold any contributions or rollovers we receive on trust for 14 days and contact you or your financial adviser to obtain your TFN. If we don't receive your TFN, we will then return the contributions or rollovers.

If you are under 60, you need to complete and send to us a Tax File Number Declaration. If we don't receive this form, we may be required to withhold tax at the top tax rate (plus the Medicare Levy) from your pension payments.

You should be aware that:

- if you have more than one pension account, the tax-free threshold can only be claimed on one pension account
- if you are claiming the Seniors or Pensioners Tax Offset, you will need to complete a Withholding Declaration, available from the ATO at ato.gov.au and
- We will verify your TFN with the ATO.

Information on nominating a beneficiary

Types of nominations

A non-lapsing binding nomination which is binding on the Trustee

Selecting this nomination will make sure your account balance is paid as you have directed as long as the nomination is and remains valid. This nomination stands even when your personal circumstances change such as getting married, having children, or any other life-changing event occurs. It is therefore, very important to regularly review your nomination to make sure it reflects your current personal circumstances.

A lapsing binding nomination which is binding on the Trustee

Selecting this nomination will make sure your account balance is paid as you have directed as long as the nomination is and remains valid. A lapsing binding nomination is valid for three years after the date you sign the request. If the nomination isn't updated after three years, the nomination will lapse.

A non-binding nomination subject to Trustee discretion

The Trustee will decide who receives your account balance, taking into consideration your preferred beneficiaries and your current circumstances at the date of your death.

A reversionary nomination

Your pension payments continue to be paid to your nominated beneficiary upon your death.

No nomination

The Trustee will decide who receives your account balance.

Who can you nominate?

Under superannuation law, you can nominate:

Individuals

- your spouse (which includes a de-facto spouse and a same sex partner)
- children including step and adopted children, children of your spouse and other children within the meaning of the Family Law Act 1975

- individuals who are financially dependent on you at the time of your death, and
- someone in an interdependency relationship with you at the time of your death.

Legal Personal Representative (your estate)

Your legal representative, either the executor under your will or a person granted letters of administration for your estate if you die without having left a valid will.

Why can't you nominate other family members or friends?

The law only allows you to nominate individuals who are financially dependent on you or have an interdependency relationship with you at the time of your death. However, you can choose to have your benefit paid to your estate where you can nominate your friends and/or other family members in your will to receive these funds.

What is a financial dependant?

Someone who is financially dependent upon you at the time of your death.

The definition of a dependant under superannuation legislation may be different to the definition which is used for tax purposes. For more information on estate planning we recommend you speak with your financial or legal adviser.

What is an interdependent relationship?

This is a close personal relationship between two people who live together, where one or both of them provide for the financial and domestic support and personal care of the other. This type of relationship may still exist if there is a close personal relationship but the other requirements aren't satisfied because of some physical, intellectual or psychiatric disability.

Where can you check your beneficiary nomination?

Your beneficiary nomination details will be confirmed each year in your Annual Statement.

Taxation

The taxation rules relating to death benefits are complex and different taxation treatments may apply depending on the beneficiary nomination in place. Please seek advice from your registered tax agent.

Important information

This is NOT an application for a tax file number.

To be signed by the PAYEE and returned to the PAYER.

- Read all the instructions provided by the ATO in relation to approved form NAT 3092 before you complete this declaration. These instructions can be found at ato.gov.au

Payer: MLC Superannuation Fund

Your personal details

1. What is your tax file number (TFN)?

--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--

- OR ☐ I have made a separate application/enquiry to the ATO for a new or existing TFN
- OR ☐ I am claiming an exemption because I am under 18 years of age and do not earn enough to pay tax
- OR ☐ I am claiming an exemption because I am in receipt of a pension, benefit or allowance.

Your TFN is confidential, and the Trustee is authorised to collect and disclose your TFN under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 and Privacy Act 1988. The Trustee may use your TFN only for lawful purposes, including paying out your money, identifying or combining your superannuation benefits. These purposes may change in the future as a result of changes to the law.

Your TFN will be disclosed to the ATO and may be disclosed to the trustee of another superannuation fund or RSA provider if your benefits are transferred, unless you request in writing for it not to be disclosed to any other super/RSA provider.

You do not have to provide your TFN, and it's not an offence if you don't, however we may reject your application or return your contributions or rollovers if your TFN is not provided.

Generally, we will hold any contributions or rollovers we receive on trust for 14 days and contact you or your financial adviser to obtain your TFN. If we don't receive your TFN, we will then return the contributions or rollovers.

If you are under 60, you need to complete and send to us a Tax File Number Declaration. If we don't receive this form, we may be required to withhold tax at the top tax rate (plus the Medicare Levy) from your pension payments.

You should be aware that:

- if you have more than one pension account, the tax-free threshold can only be claimed on one pension account
- if you are claiming the seniors or pensioners tax offset, you will need to complete a Withholding Declaration, available from the ATO at ato.gov.au and
- we will verify your TFN with the ATO.
